Dear friends,

What a glorious day November 18, 2007 was! We wish to once again thank you for all you did to make this day a 'dream come true'. We were so pleased to have so many of your company present to share in this memorable day with us.

May I be among the many who wish to relay the resounding accolades of wonder and appreciation in the amazing instrument you have built and prepared for Atlanta First. We could not be more pleased or proud of the finished product. We know it will continually bear testimony to the fullness of God in this place!

We are truly blessed to have 'connected' with all of you and we pray that our connection will remain throughout the coming years. It has been a true pleasure to have gotten to know each of you during this process. Please know that you will always be welcome here at Atlanta First!

Take care and God bless,

Dr. Jim Ellison
